This approach would mean that, once the crisis is resolved, the affected foreign nations might reduce their trade with Italy to avoid similar situations in the future. Argument: the legal basis of this amendment is the previously adopted legislation.

In order to ensure that the authorities have the appropriate measures to prevent such violations the police or other authorities may be allowed to intervene but the courts will always have the final say.

This is also heavily implied in Art. 11 ERC. As the S&D, we are heavily disturbed by the governments authoritarian tendencies and ignorance of the law.
